Afterpay

2014 | SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA

REVENUE / SCALE (2025)
~$1B+

ACTIVE USERS
20M+ Users

OVERVIEW

Afterpay is a leading BNPL platform that allows customers to pay for their purchases in four interest-free installments. It was acquired by Block (formerly Square) in 2022.

MISSION & PURPOSE

To empower customers to access the things they want and need, while still allowing them to maintain financial wellness and control.

NOTABLE IMPACT

"Square completes $29B acquisition of Afterpay. The acquisition bridged Block's Cash App ecosystem with Afterpay's massive merchant network."

FOUNDER PROFILE

Nick Molnar and Anthony Eisen. Molnar was a millennial who understood his generation's aversion to credit cards, and Eisen was an experienced investment banker; they were literally next-door neighbors.